Morning Service at 11 o'clock.

Laymen's Sunday—The Address Will Be Given by Dakers Cameron, Esq.
At 8.15 p.m. at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel, the first of the series of Six Sunday evening meetings will be held. The speaker will be Prof. Kirsopp Lake, of Harvard. His topic will be "RELIGION: WHAT IT IS."
STUDENTS and all MEMBERS of the UNIVERSITY are cordially invited to attend.

ECONOMISTS HOLD FIRST GATHERING

Large Turnout of Men at First Meeting.

PETERSON SPOKE.

Interesting Information on Stock Exchange.

Last evening the Political Economy Club got away to a flying start at the first meeting of the year. The Economists gathered in the smoking room of the Arts Building, about 40
in number. The President, Mr. S.
D. Pierce, was in the chair, and opened the meeting with a few well-chosen remarks. He outlined the aims of the club and welcomed those present, particularly the new men. The minutes of the last meeting held in March, were read by the Secretary, Mr. Van Vliet, and adopted by the meeting. At this stage the members partook of delicious refreshments provided by the kindness of Dr.
Hemmeon. After everyone had taken sufficient coffee to keep them awake for the evening, the president called for a few words from Dr. Hemmeon, and later Dr. Viner, one of the founders of the club, gave a short sketch of its inception.

Following Dr. Viner's remarks, the president called on Mr. F. O. Peterson, the speaker of the evening, to talk on the subject of the Stock Exchange. Mr. Peterson handled his subject in a very able manner, showing a thorough knowledge of his subject, and he is to be congratulated for his excellent work.

The speaker started his treatment of the subject by giving a short history of the origin of the Stock Exchange, and the need for the elaboration of its machinery.

The principle of trading began before Christ, but the need for a Stock Exchange only arose with the issue of securities, which began about the fifteenth or sixteenth centuries, when monarchs of countries issued certificates of debt to merchants and others willing to lend money. These conditions soon produced dealers in certificates, the forerunners of the modern stockbroker. Markets in which these securities could be bought and sold sprang up at national centres, first in the streets and around the banks. The London

FIRST COMMERCIAL SOCIETY MEETING

Mr. Guy Dobbin to Deliver Address.

The first meeting of the Commercial Society will take place on Tuesday October 25th. The executive have gone to a great deal of trouble to make this meeting a success and expect a large turnout. The meeting will be held in the Union and will start at 8.00 p.m., sharp.

Mr. Guy D. C. Dobbin of the Sc
Wash Co. Stock brokers will give a talk on the Montreal Stock Exchange and will explain its operation and the reason for its existence. This is a subject that is not very well known to the average man and is only too well known to a few. This is a splendid opportunity to come and learn about the bears and the lambs the bulls and the wolves.

For music the Commercial Society has been especially favoured. The Mandolin Club has promised to provide the music for the first meeting and so no more need be said about that score.

The refreshments which will complete the evening's meeting will be of the usual high order and plenty of ice cream is assured. This is an opportunity which none of the freshmen in Commerce should lose to get an insight into the doings of the Commercial Society.

PRACTICE AND TICKETS.

To-night at 5.15, in the Union
Ball Room, a practice of the Rooters' Club will be held.

The practice will be a short one and immediately following the workout, the sale of Rooters' tickets will be on. This means that to get a Rooters' ticket for the game Saturday you must turn out to the practice to-night.

A new system of selling tickets has been arranged, which will eliminate any of the former inconveniences.

Bring along your grounds tickets or registration cards for identification.

Remember — to-night, at 5.15
sharp in the Union.

GLEE CLUB WILL MEET 5.15 TODAY

Reorganization is the Object of the Meeting.

ALL OUT.

Mr. Kee Will Address the Meeting.

This is a final reminder to all concerned that the reorganization meeting of the Glee Club will be held today in the Union at 5 p.m.

It is desirable to emphasize that this is not a mere resuscitation of an institution which fell to pieces through lack of interest and amateurish management. There are many indications that community singing is becoming increasingly popular, and if managed properly there is no reason why the Glee Club should not grow in numbers and importance. Everyone interested in any way in singing, whether his inclinations point to a Glee Club or to the more ambitious project of a choral society, should realize that this is an opportunity to make his voice heard. The Student body in McGill University has remained for years in a state of apathy as regards music, and in this respect it is alone among the larger Universities in Canada. This year an attempt is being made to bring Old McGill more into line with Queens and Toronto, but nothing can be done if those interested fail to give their support.

All male members of the Centenary Choir are expected to attend, as Mr.
Kee has kindly consented to address the meeting as to the best way in which to overcome technical difficulties. A member of the Students' Council will also be present.

All out tonight and get the Glee Club off to a good start.

QUEENS ARE BRIMFUL OF CONFIDENCE

Kingston Thinks Victory Tomorrow is a Certainty.

AWREY COCKSURE.

Presbyterians Arrive This Evening—Great Struggle Expected.

Extreme optimism on the result of Saturday's match is prevalent in Kingston at present. Down there they evidently feel that a victory for the Tri-Colour is already assured. George Aw-rey, coach and Athletic Director, when interviewed by the Daily today, said:
"Queens will certainly defeat McGill on Saturday, right on their own campus." He bases this somewhat sweeping statement on his opinion of the strength of his team, which, he says is going to prove stronger in every department than the Red and White. It is so much of a novelty for a Queen's coach on the eve of an Intercollegiate Rugby match to express any thing more than the certainly that the Presbyterians would put up a good fight, that it is interesting to hear how Awrey does it out. He said:
"Our back line is stronger, snappier, and better, our Quarter is faster, stronger and brainier and our wings are equal in strength to those whom Shag sends out, and they will have the advantage of being in better condition."

It can be seen from the foregoing that the Kingston outfit is evidently out to keep their season's record unblemished by an entry in the loss column, and it also goes to show that Saturday's game is bound to produce many more thrills than have been forthcoming at Queen's games here for some years.
Sentiment in local circles would tend to lean towards the opinion that Awrey's optimism is entirely unwarranted, but right or wrong, it is certain that it will be a struggle from first to last. The Red and White squad, reorganized, better conditioned, and with any defects in their machine remedied, will take the field on Saturday determined to win and confident in their ability in so doing.

The Queen's team held their final workout at their new stadium yesterday, lining up against the seconds and going through a scrimmage, followed by a signal practice. They will leave Kingston by the afternoon train today arriving at 5.40 P. M.

BAND INSTRUMENTS PLAYERS REQUIRED

Rooters' Band Workout This Afternoon — New Men Needed.

In order that the Thundering Thousand may be properly supported in their musical efforts next Saturday, the Rooters' Band are holding a special practice this afternoon in conjunction with the Rooters' practice taking place at 5.15 P. M. The redoubtable "Chub" Lebaron, will of course, be at the helm as usual. While no doubt, everyone will be ready to admit that Chub is a host in himself, at the same time there is no doubt but that the present efficient personnel of the band would be greatly augmented by the addition of new members. The more noise the better, and with the ever-present possibility that Saturday might bring a wind blowing across the field towards the rooters stand, it can be readily seen that the services of all those who can play an instrument are needed, and especially those who play Altos, Basses, Barito-nes and Cornets, as there is a deficiency of these instruments in the band at present.

noon between 5.15 and 6.00 p.m., in the Union lobby. Special arrangements have been made to have the results posted as soon as they are completed at Kingston, and no doubt many will want to avail themselves of this opportunity to get the news red hot.

SECTIONAL CLUBS.

The inaugural meetings of the various clubs will take place shortly. Owing to the preparations for the Re-union little prominence has been given to the sectional clubs. One or two have held an organization meeting, but the majority have not. The importance of these societies and clubs cannot be overlooked.

There are all kinds of clubs around the University, athletic, language, discussion, music, and social clubs. The suggestion of a Glee Club is a good one, and would be an asset to many University functions. It is to be hoped that all interest will not die out in a club, the success of which is clearly demonstrated by other Universities. Many of the larger Universities in the States count their Glee Club as one of the most important of their many clubs. With a diversity of interest such as this, there is no reason why every man, no matter what faculty, should not find a club which appeals to his individual taste.

Membership in a club brings to the college man's attention the fact that the best part of his college life is not that for which he pays at the Bursar's office. It is these outside interests which stimulate thought and make a rounder, fuller character. Of course you will always find some men in whom the desire to study is so deep-rooted that it is almost impossible to persuade them to leave their books for an evening. They fail to realize that by spending an evening in letting their thoughts run in other channels they are giving their mind recreation of the highest order, making assimilation much easier on returning to their studies.

Systematic arrangement of study periods will enable many a man who is now "worked to death" to devote his time to the activities of one club at least. As a rule his time apparently is more or less taken up, but he uses it to such poor advantage that he needs it all to cover his allotted work. A trial of the systematic method will reveal its merits.

The man who becomes a member of too many clubs is even more to be criticised than he who avoids all. He is the bane of club executives. His interest is so divided that he supports no club wholeheartedly. He is ever ready to compare clubs to their detriment and to offer criticism which is far from helpful.

It is better to choose the middle course and join one or two clubs which appeal most strongly and support them to the best of one's ability. By so doing the student derives all the benefits possible from the club activities and the executives would be encouraged with the results obtained.

A well balanced method is to belong to one club in which you receive benefit, for instance, one in which good speakers are the main attraction; and to one in which it is necessary to give out of what you have, such as a discussion group or a musical club.

Last year every club and society, without exception, reported a good season's activities. Let this year be even more successful and establish a precedent that will be hard to equal.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

To-day the McGill Track team will again contest intercollegiate honours against worthy opponents, Kingston and Toronto are relying on large entry lists to net them the points, while our own team of carefully picked men are confident that there is no flaw in the team. The softness of the track will no doubt lessen the speed of the races, but will in no wise dampen the spirit of the runners. All luck go with them, and may the best man win.

To-morrow, on our own gridiron, McGill will meet opponents who have proved themselves so far doughty rivals for the Inter-collegiate championship. No one knows what the issue will be, but if Queens wins, McGill will be the first to say "Good Old Queens, well played!" This year points to a very even and well balanced triangle, and support is needed as never before to enable McGill to lead the van. Moral support from the benches is worth more than ten yards on the field.

A LAMENT.

He came unknown like Lochinvar
But from the East, and not so far,
A dancing whizz, a flapping star,
His clothes seem to disseminate
The air of the collegiate.
For he knows how to imitate,
A pair of brogues his feet enhance,
O'er which are hung a set of pants
Which seem so loose—we turn our glance.
A striped tie appear to float
Behind four buttons of a coat
By Brooks, which hugs his collared throat.
A face he has, we will confess,
No more a mess, and yet no less Than older college men possess.
But missing are the lines of toil
Which come from burning midnight oil.

In playing out the rules of Hoyle.
His hat is squashed from top to base,
And were his ears not in their place,
It would descend upon his face.
His hair and forehead fail to show,
But we as writers ought to know,
So underneath the hat we'll go.
Ah! Side-wise brushed with part between,
His hair of slick and slippy sheen
Displays the use of vaseline.
He came to us in such a state,
With looks and clothes that designate
Him as an old collegiate.
But he was just a frosh withal,
His dignity was bound to fall,
And he was riding for a fall.
It came! Oh what a burning blot
That all his pride and poise are shot
By that ungodly freshman pot!

Editor, "McGill Daily,"

Dear Sir:

Today through the class meeting, the "Daily" and various other advertisements the past, present, and future of the new song book was resolutely placed before us.

Feeling as I do, that book should get every encouragement. Everything possible should be done to display its qualities and stimulate the sale of the book. The average student as facts will prove is musically inclined, and those who are not would be eventually induced could some of the many lively, catchy, and oldtime tunes and poems contained in the book, but how?

The most of us are roomers, or out of town men who are placed in the position of only being allowed to come and go without the privilege of a musical hour.

Two years ago there was a piano placed in the common room of the Union where some of our best players entertained three or four hundred students during what proved now, to be the most dreary hours of the day. These are from 12 A. M. to 2 P. M. Shortly after twelve the crowd gathered round and a feeling of good fellowship and merriment pervaded the whole room. A cheerful hour, a relaxing rest from studies and daily monotony were ours then, but these times are no more.

No other room is at the disposal of the student body for this purpose as it was emphatically explained by one of the janitors. Why then could not the old music box be brought back to its old home and give us the same cheerful hours and at the same time the song book be made more familiar in the most practical way possible. The song book in this way would soon become better known and more in demand.

I trust that those interested in this suggestion will follow up with whatever support they can offer for the benefit of three or four hundred and ONE.

(Editors note) —Had the writer of this letter read yesterday's daily or attended the Students Society meeting he would have seen that the matter of the piano had been discussed in some detail. However the idea of tising the song book at noon hours is worthy of note.

To the Editor, McGill Daily.

I would like to say a few words on a subject that was dealt with on one occasion in your editorial column last year. For some reason it was dropped at that time but it seems to me important and urgent enough to warrant a revival. I refer to the state of the monument and tomb of James McGill.

Probably everyone knows that the tomb of the founder of our University is situated at the head of the avenue in the college grounds and immediately in front of the Arts Building. In its present state of repair this tomb is an eyesore in the grounds. I must say that some slight improvement has been made since last year but it seems to me that there is still much to be desired. The tomb of the founder of an institution such as McGill University, especially when it is in the heart of the grounds, should be kept in good order.

For such an important matter as this, the expenditure involved in putting the whole plot of land and the tomb in first class order would be comparatively small. Probably opinions will vary as to the advisability of making any change in the surroundings of the tomb but it would seem to me essential that the stonework should be properly cleaned and that the inscription be made quite legible. At present the stones are almost black and the inscription cannot be read. I would further suggest that the shrubbery in the plot be trimmed and if necessary that the lower branches be cut from the tree which stands in front of the monument. It does not seem necessary to make the place conspicuous but it undoubtedly should be kept neat and the inscription should be legible. I hope that the proper authorities will see fit to take some action in this matter, so that the tomb of James McGill may be kept in a good state of repair in future.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your space, I remain,

Yours sincerely,
E. B. COPLAND, Arts '22.

To The Editor,

The McGill Daily,

Dear Sir:

In a recent letter in this column, the suggestion was put forward that a session of the Mock Parliament should be conducted before the close of our Fall term. A reason advanced was that with the approach of the Federal Elections a certain amount of spontaneous interest might be stirred up and enthusiasm aroused.

There is no place in Canada today where interest in politics lies more dormant than in McGill University. Our University, which should be a seething pot of political thought and opinions, remains content with the discussion of such highly elucidated things subjects as whether Baby carriages should be permitted on the college campus.

At the present moment, when every-thinking Canadian citizen has been dragged into a turmoil of political discussion, we, who should be studying the condition and needs of today in order to be able to direct the policy of the government of tomorrow, allow ourselves to remain aloof and are content with the discussion of subjects of a trifling or purely local nature.

If the deals which were so eloquently urged by our own Principal Sir Arthur Currie, and by our illustrious graduates solemnly gathered in convention, but a few days ago, are to be realized, we must for our part, show ourselves broadminded and willing to take an intelligent interest in the great movements of our time.

The "LIT" would be taking a step in the right direction by encouraging such discussion in a Mock Parliament but it is perhaps too much to hope that the student body will rise out of its lethargy and give such a movement its enthusiastic co-operation.

(Sgd) TORY.

R.V.C. '22 DISCUSSED IMPORTANT AFFAIRS

A meeting of the Class '22 was held in the R. V. C. Common Room yesterday at one p.m. with the President Miss MacKae in the chair.

Miss Rough called the attention of the class to the fact that the basketball season was about to begin and that special arrangements were to be made for beginners to learn the game. She asked everyone to sign up as soon as possible.

Miss Henderson, governor of the Sports Committee, drew the attention of the class to the fact that this was the last day for entries.

Miss Birkett Pres. of the undergrad. Soc. asked that there should be a better attendance at the Undergrad. Meetings. The meeting then adjourned.

BOXERS' WORK- OUT PROVED SUCCESSFUL

"Ernie" Robinson Led Large Crowd of Beginners.

NEW COACH.

Is Pleased With Attendance
And Conduct of Men.

ADVANCED CLASS.

That the Boxing Club will meet with success this year, can be easily predicted by the good appearance of their advanced men, who worked out yesterday afternoon, under the leadership of "Ernie" Robinson.

Although only three men of the previous years' team, appeared, the remaining men showed that they were by no means to be overlooked, and judging by their showing, one can rest assured that they will give a good account of themselves in the future.

That there will be much competition in a certainty. Men will have to work hard to make the intercollegiate team.

The advanced boxers who turned out, showed that although lacking condition and experience they will improve quickly under the guidance of "Ernie" Robinson, who is an expert at the game. Coach Robinson did not deem it necessary to teach the fundamentals of the game, but went into the scientific side of it. "Slipping," "blocking" and "countering" were explained efficiently.

The new coach proved to be snappy and enthusiastic in his instruction, a thing that the boxers needed badly last year.

BEGINNERS.

Unprecedented enthusiasm which bodes well for the future, was the salient feature of the initial workout of the beginners boxing class yesterday afternoon. About 100 men were present and were put through their paces by coach Robinson, who sees some very promising material among the newcomers. At this early stage it is of course impossible to pick out any particular man as being a possible contender for University and Intercollegiate honors, but it is certainly safe to say that last year's title-holders will have to extend themselves to the utmost if they are to repeat. Apropos of this, Coach Robinson wishes all men who boxed last year to take the first opportunity of turning out again and getting into shape for this year's activities. To the newcomers he wishes to stress the fact that with the large turnout, strict attention to instruction must be the standard, and with this as an accepted condition it is safe to say that the McGill boxing club will be heard from strongly in future competitions.

FENCERS WILL HOLD MEETING

To Decide Upon Nights of Practice Periods.

The Fencing Club is having a meeting this afternoon at five in the Arts building, in order that the members may decide upon the nights of practice. To fulfill the requirements of the department of Physical Education, every man must put in two hours fencing a week at least. There will be two periods a week from 5 to 6 p.m., probably on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

The club hopes to secure the services of Mr. Raimondi who was the instructor last year. Mr. Raimondi is a maître d'armes who has had considerable success on the continent. He has trained some of the Schools' champions of England and assisted at Oxford in training some of our best known fencers. The club hopes that his success as a trainer did not end in England, and feels confident of better success this year.

The fencers are greatly handicapped at present by having no place large enough to fence in. It is to be hoped that this difficulty will be overcome in the near future and that a suitable salle d'armes will be found where the fencing club can leave its equipment unmolested and which will afford ample room for at least four bouts to be carried on simultaneously. In the meanwhile a few practices will probably be held in the old room in the basement of the Union.

WATER POLOISTS SHOW GOOD FORM

Coach Vernot Staged Snappy
Practice Yesterday.

The practice of the water polo team at the Central Y. M. C. A., tank was highly successful not only in numbers but also in the form which they showed. Nearly all of last year's team were out and many promising new men made an appearance. Fisk, Vernot, Foss and Laidley of last year's team all showed that they had not lost any of their speed this summer. Munro of last year's intermediate team was also in good shape.

Mr. Vernot, the coach, staged a practice game in which most of the old squad played the intermediates. The game was fast and the new men kept the old timers working.

This season if the team develops as it should we should have another championship team. The intermediates have already shown their ability when they defeated La Salle, and the games should be well worth watching.

Practice will take place every Tues. Thurs. and Saturday at 5.15.

The schedule is as follows:
SENIOR AND INTERMEDIATE
Oct. 2—M. S. C.
Nov. 9—M. A. A.
Nov. 18—M. S. C.
Nov. 25—M. A. A.

INTERMEDIATE
Oct. 42—Maisonneuve.
Nov. 4—Nationale.
Nov. 23—Maisonneuve.
Nov. 28—La Salle.
Nov. 30—Nationale.

SCHEDULE MADE FOR BASEBALL

Many Interesting Games Are Looked For.

The following is the schedule for the first month of the Class Indoor Baseball league:

Oct. 24—Med '25 vs Med '26.
Oct. 25—Comm '23 vs Med '24.
Oct. 26—Comm '22 vs Med '23.
Oct. 28—Arts '22 vs Law '23.
Oct. 31—Comm '24 vs Arts '25.
Nov. 1—Sci. — vs Arts '24.
Nov. 2—Med '25 vs Med '24.
Nov. 4—Comm '23 vs Med '26.
Nov. 8—Comm '22 vs Law '23.
Nov. 9—Arts '22 vs Med '23.
Nov. 11—Comm '24 vs Arts '24.
Nov. 14—Sci. — vs Arts '25.
Nov. 15—Med '25 vs Comm '23.
Nov. 16—Comm '22 vs Arts '22.
Nov. 18—Med '26 vs Med '24.

Class representatives are requested to keep this schedule, in order that they may have their teams on hand for their games. All games are to be played in the gymnasium of the Montreal High School and will commence at 6 p.m., on the above dates.

This league will not be seen on the elimination plan as it was last year, so if a team loses the first game it will not necessarily mean that it will be out of the running. A list of games for the second month will be published later and class representatives will be notified.

Freshman teams are urged to get together at once and to have a practise if possible. Bats and balls may be obtained at Molson Hall and the east side of the campus in front of the Physics Building used to practise on.

Representatives of the various years who have not already handed in their names are requested to do so at once to Reg. Henry, Med '25, president of the club or to O. L. McCullough, Comm. '23, secretary and manager.

CONTESTANTS FOR FACULTY RUGBY TITLE

All Teams Will Play To-day.

GREAT OPTIMISM.

Wet Weather Prevented Outdoor Work on Thursday.

"We're all set," was the answer given to the Daily by the various captains of the four faculty teams. Each and every management was exceptionally confident that their team would carry off the honours in the inter-faculty league.

With this spirit permeating the various faculties we can rest assured that this year will see some of the hardest fought contests in the history of inter-faculty sports. All that is needed is a complete turn-out of rooters for the different teams.

ARTS and LAW.

To see that last year's champions are again out to cop the title it was only necessary to visit their last practice held in the smoking room in the Arts building this afternoon. Manager Fraser and Capt. Pierce have a very enthusiastic team. If snap and go count any—the title will surely remain in their possession. They're fast and they know their signals. Pierce and Chauvin as halves are going to let the other teams know they're playing from the first blow of the whistle. The line though not heavy is evenly balanced. Manager Fraser has requested us to warn all his players about being physically examined. It is imperative that every player be examined before playing.

The team:—Snap back, McDermid; quarter, Gardner; middles, Elliot and Lidstone; insides, Webster and Hampson; outsides, Ogilvy and Cousins; halves, Chauvin, Pierce (capt), Hall; flying wings, Anderson.

Subs:—Harris, Smith, Armstrong, Chade, Anderson, Davis, Reid, Blundell, Falconer, Stone.

To be out by 1.45 p.m.

COMMERCE.

Commerce is trying by herself this year. A team?—Yes and some team. Rain did not succeed in stopping their practice—they used the ballroom in the Union. The team is probably the most evenly balanced of all the faculties. They have the weight and speed; they have experienced men, and above all, they have "pep". Sharers in last year's spoils—they fully intend having it all to themselves this year. The team chosen will be notified individually by "Norm" Wallace.

MEDICINE.

Medicine are but for "gore" this year. The heaviest team in the league and a great half-line. They have had ill-back as regards practice but say that makes no difference. They claim that with a fair umpire and referee they will win—as they should have last year. Anyway a word to those in charge of the matches in which Meds' figure—the reporter heard the team remarking on the possible chances of a few more "stiffs" for dissection purposes—huf sed. A statement regarding the team is to be found elsewhere.

SCIENCE.

Science is the dark-horse of the league. It is known that their outsides and halves are good however. This fact alone, with the new rules, shows they will be "there" when the time comes. The team:—Snap back, Joslin; insides, MacGillies, McGregor; middles, Almond, Moore; Outsides, Squires; quarter, Smith; W. Hamilton; halves, Whittall, Williamson, Olive; subs, Taylor, James, Rumble.

HARRIERS TO RUN ON SHORT COURSE

All Men to Be At Stadium
At Five.

To day at five o'clock there will be another harrier run from the stadium. All men who wish to enter must be ready to start at the above hour. As the inter-faculty run is to be held next Wednesday every man should take this run. The team for the inter-collegiate meet will be chosen from those who place in the inter-faculty run. The distance to be run today will be short because of the late start but it will give every man a chance to become accustomed to part of the course.

A team must also be chosen for the Dunlop road race which is to be held later in the month. Teams from all over Quebec are to enter this race, so that it promises to be one of the big events of the year.

SPECIAL ORDER SUITS.

Semi-Ready Custom-Made Suits
Down to $25.

One year ago the lowest price at which even the largest wholesale tailoring house could produce a made-to-measure suit was $38. Now one can visit a Semi-ready Store and secure a suit made to measure of pure wool in four days at the shops for $25. This is a reduction of $13, or a drop in price of slightly over 30 per cent of the present cost.

A Semi-ready serge suit can be made to measure for $30. The R. J. Tooke stores sell Semi-ready tailored suits and overcoats—and do not mix up with any other makers.—Advt.

ECONOMISTS HOLD FIRST GATHERING.

Stock Exchange, in its present form, came into existence in 1773, the Paris Bourse in 1788, and the New York Stock Exchange in 1817. The Montreal Stock Exchange was founded in 1874.

But now, the associations thus formed were part of the national development of a business then growing up to large proportions through the application of the idea of issues of securities to provide capital for commercial enterprises as well as for government purposes.

The whole structure of modern business, with its tremendous growth in the past century, has been reared on the expansion of credit facilities made possible by the issue of securities.

The function performed by the Stock Exchange as a market is very important—that function is to stand as the agent of the negotiability of securities, and promises to pay with which the commercial prosperity of every country is closely bound up.

The speaker then went on to explain the intricate organisation of the Stock Exchange, its governing body and the various rules of membership. He emphasized the necessity for absolute integrity in a stock broker—he must be a man of sound judgment if he is to succeed. A very high type of man is thus required, and Mr. Peterson made the point that a stock broker is essentially a public servant, and that his business is to supply a certain kind of demand for a consideration. The Montreal Stock Exchange was the principal one dealt with. It has 70 members, whereas the New York Exchange has 1,100 members, and the London Exchange 4,000 members. The speaker then went on to show how the government uses measures to protect the public, in the registration of shares and the severe regulations for brokers.

The rest of the time was largely taken up in a very interesting technical discussion of the mode of procedure followed on the floor of the Stock Exchange. The different kinds of stocks and bonds were explained, and also the listing of the stocks. The methods of trading were gone into in detail, the speaker explaining the plan of the floor at the Montreal Stock Exchange, also the functions of floor brokers, clerks and messengers. Then the different kinds of brokers, specialists, odd lots brokers, bond brokers, traders, etc.

Following this the procedures on the floor were outlined, attention being paid to dealing between brokers and clients, and between the various brokers. During Mr. Peterson's talk many interesting questions were asked by the members, and he showed marked ability in handling these queries.

After the discussion was over the programme for the year was discussed at some length, and finally the following interesting programme was drawn up. The meeting adjourned about 10.30.

Nov. 17 will be the date of the next meeting, which will be on the Present Political Situation, and will be handled by three men, Ballantyne, for the Conservatives, Jones for the Liberals, and Lefsond for the Farmers. Other topics for discussion at later dates are:

The Basis of Representation—Willard and Puddicombe.

The Chinese and Japanese Labor Question as it Affects Canada.

The Economic Relation of Canada and the United States—W. B. Allan and E. B. Copland.

The Disarmament Question — M. Gaboury.

The Unemployment Situation — G. M. Webster and S. D. Pierce.

BRIGHT OUTLOOK FOR TRACK TODAY

Soft Track May Make Time
Slow.

Yesterday morning the track team left for the inter-collegiate track meet at Kingston. The team was confident of victory and every man was in good shape. The following men went to Kingston: Hay, Johnson, Lane, McNider, Hamilton, Legg, Gammell, Wiggins, Pritchard, Simpson, Kennedy, Consiglio, Gaboury, Foss, Hughes, McEllan, Craik, O'Brien, Cowan, and Coach Van Wagner.

This afternoon the results will be posted in the Union at five fifteen or as soon after as it is possible to get them from Kingston.

All the teams are in Kingston and everything is ready for the inter-collegiate track meet. The McGill squad arrived on time with every man in good condition so that the chances of victory are extremely bright.

Varsity arrived last night with a very strong squad. Queens and R. M. C. have the largest entry list in years so that several heats may have to be run in some of the events. Nevertheless the general attitude in Kingston points to a victory for McGill.

There is little danger, however, of any of the present records being broken. The track is new and recent heavy rains have made it very soft. This will not have any effect as far as the result of the meet is concerned but will slow down all the races. In the sprints Johnson will without doubt come in well toward the front but with a soft track and cold weather it will be difficult for him to break the present record. The relay team will have to work in order to lower their time after last Saturday's race. There is every chance that they break the present record if the track is not too wet.

The team which went to Kingston is the equal of that which went to Toronto last year and unless several remarkable men have been found there should be little trouble. Toronto without doubt had her fastest men here last week and although they put up a pretty fight the finish of both races showed the difference of the men. The other colleges may have found new material but a careful survey of all their teams shows that McGill has a well balanced squad in comparison to the one or two stars possessed by the other teams.

NOT VERY BROADLY ACQUENT

No, not all of them; I've only been here two years.

PEPYS AT MCGILL

Thursday, Oct. 20th. The rain pouring down in floods all day, which always serves to put me in an ill humour. I only made one jest this day, being for me a most unusual precedence as I possess no little skill at puns and jokes. Coming to the great gates at the entrance to the several colleges I remarked to one who walked with me that were better if the coachmen had perveyed themselves with barges, changing their horses into sea-lions, or the like, the which I thought to be a most excellent conceit; only he remarked it not, nor split his sides as in sooth he should. I am not as yet elected as a Counsellor of the Committee, on Pitt-and-Take, which troubles me sorely. Heard this day that the men of the Queen's College whom we are to engage at football at the week's end are staunch adherents of the Presbyterian sect, which makes me the more wish that the victory may lie with us. For tis the very same, who, with the Independents brought the first king Charles to his murderous death, for which crimes many among them were dragged to Tyburn in the blessed reign of the dead king's son. All which things are set down by my grand-sire Pepys in his diary. It may be that if we tounce them thoroughly they may also be hanged for a body of impotent varlets, and their entrails burned before them on a little heap only I fear me the times are more gentler now than formerly, also it might prove a loathsome and discordant sight to the women who frequent these colleges. Secretly glad that I withstood the temptation to buy me a new hat, as in truth it would have got much harm from the rain.
